EASTERN DATES TO MAY 31.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

Conspiracy in Marseilles.

VERSAILLES, May 29.—An incendiariet conspiracy is reported to have been discovered at Marseilles. Noguet Gambetta, Prefect of Corsica, has been arrested as the principal conspirator. His wife tried to shoot the officer who made the arrest.

It is calculated that 40,000 insurgents have been killed during the last week and 60,000 prisoners taken.

Victor Hugo Banished from Belgium.

BRUSSELS, May 30.—In the Belgian Senate, Baron Daxitban, in reply to M. Rodis, stated that the Government having become convinced that a recent letter of Victor Hugo was compromising to Belgium, he had requested Hugo to leave the country, and that upon his refusal to do so the King signed a decree, the object of which was to force his departure. The Baron added that the decree would be enforced.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Nathan Sargent, Commissioner of Customs will retire from that office to-morrow. Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Douglass, was tendered the position but declined it. No person has since that time been designated to succeed Sargent.

To-day was generally observed as a holiday. Public offices were closed and business generally suspended. Exercises at the various cemeteries presented the usual interesting features. President Grant, with the members of the Cabinet and other prominent officials, attended the ceremonies at Arlington where Stewart L. Woodford of New York, delivered an oration at the tomb of unknown soldiers. Frederick Douglass delivered an address.

Vice President Colfax is still improving and able to walk about the room to day, and is confident he will be able to start home to-morrow.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Col. W. H. L. Barnes' address before the Grand Army of the Republic, last night, was one of his ablest efforts, and is highly praised by all who heard it.

James Brooks, member of Congress form New York, arrived overland last night.

The Tuolumne Water Co., to turn and use for irrigation, navigation and milling purposes, the waters of the Tuolumne, Stanislaus and Merced rivers, capital $2,000,000, has been incorporated.

Weather warm and clear, with light wind in the south.

The schooner Caroline E. Foote went ashore last night near San Buena Ventura, and is a total loss. She was owned by Charles Hare of this city. She was an old vessel, and uninsured.

Giacomo Campi, who fell from the stairs at the Vernal Fall, Yosemite died from injuries received, as a dispatch from Sonora this morning informs his partner.

The Future Granary of the United States.

[From the New York Commercial List.]

Less than forty years ago, the principal grain producing districts of the United States were east of the Alleghany Mountains, but since then the grain belt has been gradually extending to the West and Northwest, till at length it is located in the Upper Mississippi Valley. New York was at one time the foremost wheat producing State; then Ohio took the lead, and now the most prominent grain States on the Atlantic slope are Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota. The States lying further East, through the rapid growth of population now produce barely enough wheat for their own use. Some of them, indeed, have become largely dependent upon younger States. With the rapid settlement of the Northwest, the Red River valley promises to become an important part of the great granary of the country, before the lapse of many years. That valley contains 60,000 square miles of what are pronounced by competent authorities, the richest wheat lands in the world. It has been estimated that the full resources of the valley are capable of an annual product of 600,000,000 bushels. Even with but one acre in five under cultivation, with a yield of twenty bushels to the acre, as in Minnesota, the annual product would reach 150,000,000 bushels, or nearly three-fourths of the present product of the whole country. But the Red River valley, vast as it is, is only a small section of the new wheat area of the great undeveloped Northwest. To say nothing of Nebraska and the other new States now being rapidly settled, the plains of the Saskatchewan and the valley of the Yellowstone are represented to be as fertile as those of the Red River valley. In view of which, and the rapid growth of the Mississippi valley population, it cannot be doubted that, in the swiftly coming years, there will be a dense population in these new and fertile regions. The rapid extension of railroad communication will greatly hasten these events. This year will probably see 5,000 miles of new railroad added to the 53,000 miles already in operation in the United States. The extension of communication promises to be specially active in the Northwest during the next few years, in order to reach the regions we have thus pointed out, and which are said to equal the valley of the Nile in fertility, while far surpassing it in extent. From the high latitude of these Northwestern valleys and plains, it would naturally be supposed that the climate is too rigorous to invite a teeming population; but this idea is altogether erroneous. The yearly isothermal, on the line of 40 degrees for the year, passes through Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Upper Canada, Northern Minnesota, Manitoba, up the Saskatchewan, and strikes the Pacific coast in Alaska. This is said to be due to the Japanese current, which starts from the China Sea, flows Northeast, strikes British Columbia, bends South past Puget Sound, and returns to its starting point. It is like the Gulf Stream of the Atlantic. The warm winds following the current, blowing from the Southwest, pass over the mountains and temper the climate of the Northwest—an area, North of the 43d parallel, large enough for forty States of the size of Ohio, or 200 of the size of Massachusetts, giving to that vast territory a climate like that of the Middle and Northern States. New York and the other leading North Atlantic seaports must eventually derive important gains from the development of the new North West. London has made herself the banking house of the world by furnishing means of opening communication with every nook and corner on the face of the globe where commerce has a foothold, and it is the privilege of New York, aided by available foreign capital, to reach out and render tribute to its commercial pre-eminence on this continent, the exhaustless riches of an empire which, in the coming years, will be mightier than any ever conquered by an Alexander or a Cæsar.

The worst joke, says an exchange, that was ever perpetrated on scientific men took place recently at Louisiana, Missouri. A man was sick with rheumatism, or something, and a fellow went around to the doctors and professors and things, and told them that it was the queerest case on record. He said that the man had no feeling. You could stick pins in his body all over and he paid no attention to them at all. He was perfectly numb. So the doctors got together and called on the sick man to experiment. All arrived with pins and bodkins. The man was asleep and they got around him, and each one stuck his pin in the patient. The sick man rolled over and looked at the crowd and thought they had come to dissect him, so he took a chair in one hand and a bed-post in the other and drove the crowd thence. They were around several days afterward with their heads tied up, looking for the man who said the sick man had no feeling.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

PARIS, May 30—Evening—All quiet.

The victorious troops occupy the barracks. There is already a strong feeling that the Paris government is too weak to last.

Awful massacres continue at the barricades in Rue Rochmart. In one ditch the wounded people found were burned alike.

An epidemic is feared from the number of dead bodies in the city.

Vidal has been shot; also Friedberd, and 40,000 francs were found in his cellar, spoils of the Republic.

Mathieu, a member of the Commune, was arrested and 100,000 francs found upon him.

The Versaillists have placed back the statue of Henry Quatre, which had been thrown into the Seine.

Okolowski, a Red leader has been shot.

Milliere was arrested at Luxemburg and a platoon of soldiers shot him.

During the attack by the Versaillists upon the barracks in Place des Fetes, a number of Versaillists lost their way and got mixed up with the Communists, by whom they were taken prisoners and fifty of them shot.

VERSAILLES, May 30.—At the sitting of the Assembly to-day, Changarnier spoke about Metz defending Bataine. Theirs replied, calling Bazaine an illustrious warrior.

Duke Audiperet Pasquier proposed admittance of the Orleanist Princes to the Assembly.

Picard replied he would be happy to consider the subject.

A corps of 20,000 men have returned in triumph to Versailles with 6,000 prisoners, who were discovered to be of the insurgents who murdered nine of the Dominican priests Friday.

PARIS, May 30.—The troops still hold the mayoralties and public buildings.

The disarmament of the National Guard proceeds. They are forbidden to wear uniforms.

The archives of the International Society have been discovered and also other documents in Delescluze's house.

Summary executions of insurgent prisoners continue.

Fifteen members of the Commune surrendered in Vincennes.

Reports of changes in the Ministry of the Seine are officially denied.

PARIS, May 31.—There are apprehensions that the Tuileries and Hotel de Ville will fall.

Insurgent prisoners exceed 40,000.

Court martials use mitrailleuses in wholesale executions.

Rochefort Probably Executed.

NEW YORK, May 31.—A Tribune cable special dated at Paris, Tuesday night, says: I learn from a sure source that M. Rochefort has been condemned to death by a Versailles court martial. He has probably been executed already.

LONDON, May 31.—Bishop Dupanloup succeeds the Archbishop of Paris.

The Duke of Aumale and the Bonapartists are active.

Foreigners are required to report to the headquarters.

Many corpses lie unburied at Belleville.

It is said that many of the insurgents are English; the French are therefore bitter against England.

CHERBOURG, May 30.—Several war ships have been transformed into hulks for the imprisonment of insurgents.

LONDON, May 31.—A Times special says that Picard has resigned. Victor Lafrance is his successor.

The Monde says the Princes de Joinville and Aumale adhere to the manifesto of Chambord.

The fusion of the Legitimists and Orleanists is complete.

Official Changes.

Excio goes as minister to St. Petersburg; Cissy succeeds to the Ministry of War; Picard is appointed Governor of the Bank of France.

Gen. McMahon in a proclamation divides Paris into four commands as follows: Vinoy for the east; L'Admirault for the north; Douay for the center, and Cissy for the south. The civil power is transferred to the military; and no ingress or egress is allowed.

It is reported Pyatt has escaped.

Mathieu, an officer of the Commune, had captured a million and a half of francs. The corpse of Varolin was searched and four hundred thousand francs found.

Victor Hugo has gone to Holland.

PARIS, May 31.—Executions continue. Persons who are denounced and discovered hiding are shot hourly, also numerous men and women are arrested for attempts at assassination and arson. Many of those executed yesterday and to day seemed perfectly crazy.

A horrible effluvia from the bodies of the dead fills certain quarters of the city.

There are abundant signs of a speedy coup de etat. The Assembly will depose Thiers and summon Chambord to the throne.

EASTERN STATES.

Jay Cooke's offer Declined.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—The Secretary of the Treasury has finally notified Jay Cooke & Co. that the proposition to take the balance of the two hundred millions loan is declined, for the reason that the Secretary doubts his power to accept some of the conditions proposed.

The Debt Reduction.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The public debt statement shows a decrease during the present month of three millions. Pensions are now paid quarterly instead of semi-annually, as formerly, and the payments on this account during May have been about six millions.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Devine, alias "The Chicken," is before the Coroner this evening, witnessing the inquest on his victim, August Kamp. There is the strongest possible case against him aside from his admission of having shot a man when he was arrested.

Gen. Crook will sail for San Pedro on his way to Arizona, by the Orizaba on Friday.

All the Hidden Treasure stock thrown on the market is being bought up by a few parties and there are indications of a corner and a sudden advance near at hand.

A whale of the largest size was seen in the bay off Angel Island last night.

This evening about 5 o'clock, a Chinaman was set upon by boys on Fourth street and murdered. He was taken to the calaboose in a dying condition; his skull having been fractured by a rock. The boys were not arrested.

General Rosecrans is stopping in the city.

Smith, the steward of the steamer Petrel, who was reported lynched at Umpqua for an alleged outrage on a little girl, arrived here on the bark Novantisic. He denies that he was guilty of any wrong; says he was beaten, kicked, treated to whisky, set ashore in the woods some six miles from Umpqua and told to make for Coos Bay, to which place he was finally guided by the Indians. A part of his story is believed.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The schooner Caroline E. Foote, of San Francisco, is lost. No insurance. Crew saved.

PERSONAL NOTES.

The English historian Froude has declined an invitation to come to America on a lecturing tour next fall.

Robert Bonner, of the New York Ledger, contradicts the published report that he has accepted a challenge to trot "Dexter" against Leland Stanford's California horse for $50,000.

The controversy about the authenticity of the poems of Ossian, thrown upon the world by James McPherson in 1763, is likely to be revived, a Rev. Archibald Clerk, of Kilmallicl, Inverness-shire, of Scotland, having published a volume recently in which he contends that Fingal and Ossian really lived and were not creatures of McPherson's imagination. The question, which was regarded as definitely settled, is already attracting some attention. Next thing Chatterton's frauds will be revived.

THE TERRITORIES.

A man named John McMahon, who got into a row with another man named Taylor, at Owyhee, a few days ago, was shot by the latter and his hip badly shattered.

A Boise paper chronicles the sale of a large freight wagon for the sum of two dollars, and thinks it "high time for bull whackers and mule skinners to hang up their implements of torture."

The sentence of P. F. Walters, who was to have been hanged at Lewiston this month, for the crime of murder, has been commuted to imprisonment for life in the Idaho Penitentiary. The commutation of the sentence was made by Gov. Curtin, in compliance with a petition of citizens of Lewiston.

The Boise Democrat says that the hobby now in Idaho is to go into the business of rearing stock. It says the question with the coming cattle kings is, "how shall we get hold of a few head to start with?" Which the solution is, if you haven't got the money to buy a couple of two year olds, shovel tailings and earn it.

From the Boise Statesman: The friends of Jessie Roland, who died recently at the Snake river mines, brought her body to this city for interment. The ceremony was attended by a large number of the acquaintances of the frail sister. Not many years ago, a comely beauty and a kind heart, perverted to evil courses, she sought to drown shame, and hastened her ruin by intemperance. She thus passes to her final account.

Railroad Matters.

The Jacksonville Times sprints the following, which shows that that paper comprehends the railroad situation. Speaking of the new company formed in San Francisco, it says:

They propose to build the road without government aid. If this be true, the proposed Pengra railroad from the Central Pacific near the north bend of the Humbolt to Eugene City, will inevitably go "where the woodbine twineth." This being the case, a desperate effort will undoubtedly be made by the unscrupulously friends of that Company, both in and out of Congress, to secure a diversion of the California and Oregon, Railroad from the present line at or near Eugene City to the country east of the mountains, and establish a connection with the California Extension near Goose Lake, which would leave Southern Oregon effectually out in the cold. The defeat of this project depends in a great measure upon our people themselves. With proper energy and tact they can meet the new danger and avert it, and we have no hesitancy in calling upon men of all shades of political opinion to unite upon this common object. It is a conceded fact, that without a railroad our fertile valleys, our magnificent agricultural and mineral resources, our salubrious climate, and our immense water power will remain as heretofore unknown, undeveloped, and unenjoyed. The Valley of Rogue River, alone, will sustain a population of 50,000 people; without means of outer communication we can never have the population and consequent development and wealth which is required to place Southern Oregon on the road to prosperity. Our people must not be swindled out of the means of development by supineness and neglect, but must sotively agitate this matter—place it ahead of every other.

The San Francisco Commercial Herald has this:

It is most gratifying to note the rapid strides with which business communication and travel between San Francisco and remote points are being pushed toward completion. It is now certain that we are to have three, probably four, transcontinental railroads. One will extend from the Straits of Carquinez, through rich mineral and cereal-producing regions, and will connect with the Union Pacific and other through Eastern roads. It has not yet been positively determined through which pass of the Sierra Nevada the line will go; but probably through Beckwourth's or Noble's Pass. English and German capitalists have become largely interested in its construction. Connection with the Union Pacific will be made at Ogden, and the road will afford great facilities for making other connections with Oregon, and the Territories of Idaho and Montana. It is expected that the company will hold forth strong inducements to German and other desirable immigrants to settle on the lands performed by the road. Next in order is the Southern Pacific Railroad, which has been taken hold of with vigor and energy by heavy New York capitalists and others. It will make San Diego a flourishing business mart, and will bring us into direct communication with Texas and other Southern States. The Northern Pacific Railroad is progressing finely, and will develop the abundant resources of Washington Territory, Oregon, and render Alaska more readily accessible to Eastern business centres. The measures that are now being carried out to provide sufficient irrigation for our great productive valleys can scarcely fail of being successful, and will relieve the greater portion of the State from all fears of drought in years to come, while the navigable canals that are to be dug will bring vast tracts nearer to market by furnishing the requisite transportation at all seasons of the year.

There is another great centennary coming. Nicolaus Copernicus was born on the 19th of February, 1473, and the people of his native town of Thorn, in Prussia, are already preparing for a celebration worthy of the event. They have got nearly two years in which to complete their preparations, but they contemplate great things. Among other stupendous undertakings which are to be achieved for the glory of Copernicus, there is to be a prize biography, which shall be written "scientifically" from authentic documents, and prove beyond question the Polish nationality of the celebrated astronomer. As this latter point has long been disputed, and heavy arguments used to prove the contrary, the aspirant for the prize of 500 thalers and the honor which is to go with it may have a difficult task on his hands. Suppose the authentic documents "scientifically" treated will not show that Copernicus was a Pole, what is to be done? No doubt there will be found a German brain sufficiently powerful to get over the difficulty, and the mooted question will be settled in favor of Poland by the Executive Committee of the Thorn celebration.

When James Russell Lowell was in Italy, a begging friar came to him one day with a subscription for repairing his convent. Lowell said: "Ah, but I am a heretic." The friar replied: "Undoubtedly, but your money is perfectly orthodox."

The Red Rock Democrat lectures the Herald on its quarrelsome disposition as exhibited in its propensity to attack leading Democrats.

A sale of the Yaquina Bay road lands has just been consummated to T. E. Hogg for $24,000. These lands it is said are to be settled by Germans.

Three flatboats are being built at Harrisburg to be used in constructing the railroad bridge over the Willamet. The steamboat Gallipoe will also be used in the same service. The draw of the bridge will be 220 feet long, leaving 100 feet clear on each side of the center pier on which the draw will swing. We quote from the Statesman.

A Speech Epitomized

Our Slater has been heard from He got leave to print a speech in the Globe, on the Ku Klux bill and also had copies printed in pamphlet form which he is franking to all parts of the State just to show an admiring people that they have a real live Congress man who possesses the franking privilege and has intellectual capacity to use it But our Slater s ideas are not very striking He does not want Ku Kluxism punished, but does want complete amnesty for Ku Kluxes This system is very simple It would treat the unoffending Union people of the South as the real offenders and would make the mid night marauders and assassins the ones to be protected and favored This is the usual Democratic strategy

Mr Slater says of the South 'misguided she has been, but fearfully has she paid for it It is plain that he has changed his views on this subject since 1861 when he main tained that the South, so far from being 'misguided," was battling for liberty in a good cause He thought then that the South was pursuing a remarkably brilliant and hopeful career and that her devotion to the principles of "Democracy" was sublime

We have looked through Mr Slater's speech with some care, and this is about all there is of it

The Final Treaty.

By the final treaty of peace between Ger many and France it is provided that immedi- e payment of nine hundred million dollars ." indemnity shall be made This is a hun- dred millions less than was at first demanded, nd the occupation of French territory in stead of lasting for some years comes to an end, except that a few cities and fortified places on the new frontier are to be held till full payment has been made Germany has acted generously in reducing her demands and France will gain by not having to sup port a large German army, which in her pres ent deplorable condition she must find a heavy burden. The contrast between the generosity shown by victorious Germany and the grasping spirit of the first Napoleon to- ward Prussia is very noteworthy In 1807 Napoleon wrote to the French general in com- mand of the captured city of Berlin

The contribution imposed (upon the city of B lin) is to be paid to the last sou, and it is only on a e condition that I shall withdraw my troops ve notice to the inhabitants, therefore, that s less they pay the ten millions they will have a nch garrison eternally I estimate that the States which remain to the king of Prussia owe venty nine millions The arrears of revenue o the year past are equally due to me It is y when these debts are paid that I shall evacu e Berlin and the countries given back to the ng of Prussia

The statistics of population of the several counties and towns of New York State (out- side of New York City) show that the propor tion of the foreign born population in the state is less than in 1855 In all the cities and towns except New York there were in 1870 only 85 foreign born in 1670 the num ber was 715,690 The native born citizens have increased from 2,309,414 to 2,716,472 The foreign born in 1855 constituted 24½ per cent of the population of the State, outside of New York City, now the percentage is less than 21

One of the sharpest political thrusts of the time is made by the Pittsburg Commercial. That paper, alluding to the nomination of Gen Sherman by the New York Herald as Democratic candidate for President, says 'The General is not eligible to that ticket— being disqualified by his oath to support the Constitution and Government of the United States. We don t think anything better has been said than that.

Says the New York Times let us stick faith fully by such leaders as we have. It is all very fine to ask us to 'throw over General Grant. First of all tell us what sort of man you are going to give us in place of him? Is it to be a Republican who will do the bidding of the Democrats, or a Democrat who will be gin by conducting the country to the verge of civil war, and probably end by plunging it into the horrors of that immeasurable calam ity?

It is stated that the Directors of the Hiber nian Bank of San Francisco have invested $150,000 in United States 6 per cent bonds partly to keep their surplus money employed, and also to have a large sum available at call This bank is now granting loans at ten per cent per annum, in sums of $1,000 and up- ward

Horse Stealing Extraordinary

The Boise Statesman of the 27th May has the following

Sheriff Bryon arrested a couple of gentry in this city last Thursday morning who were charged on the complaint of Horace Layton, with having stolen eighteen head of horses, mules and colts at Camp C F Smith, Ore- gon The parties were taken before Justice Ghidden, and a preliminary examination was had The testimony was very direct and pos itive against them The principal witness was Mr Horace Layton who had followed them from Camp Smith as the agent of the owners of the stock His testimony was cor- roborated by Mr Robie, of this city The prisoners had no defense and volunteered no explanation of the dilemma in which they were caught His Honor held them to an swer, fixing the bail at $2 000 each, which failing to give they went to quod The names of these acquisitors of the ordinary notions of meum and tuum are Joseph Sears and Jas Anderson The rich part of this performance was the leisurely and preconcealed method by which they proceeded to appropriate the stock By neat manipulation a very respec table start was obtained, of more than twenty four hours But they traveled hither by the frequented road, selling stock and giving bills of sale in their own names. Arriving here one of them, Sears, came in to town on one of the stolen horses, put up at a public stable, and went himself to a public house, register ing in his own name He was easily traced and arrested at Johnny Crowe's saloon, while in the act of taking a cocktail to give him an appetite for breakfast. He disclosed where the other man and the stock were, just across the river from town And thus they were bagged

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.—We call particular attention of our local dealers to the advertisement of Phillips, Taber & Co., wholesale grocers and importers of tea at San Francisco. This firm is highly recommended to us by a mutual acquaintance, as one which conducts its business in such manner as to deserve its extensive trade.

AUCTION SALE OF GLASSWARE.—As will be seen by advertisement, the house of J. C. Merrill & Co., San Francisco, will hold a great auction sale of glassware on the 7th inst. There is just time enough to send orders to correspondents.

NEW DRUG STORE.—J. M. Sutton & Co. advertise a new drug store at the corner of Main and First. And as it has proved a paying institution already, we presume it is a great convenience to people in the south end of the city.

IMPERIAL FIRE INSURANCE CO.—Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay have transferred the Agency of the above company to Messrs. Hewett, Flowerdew & Co.

AMUSEMENTS.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The ladies of the Relief Society have provided an excursion for Saturday evening, which will, no doubt, be an exceedingly pleasant affair. The steamer Oneonta will leave at half past seven, go to Vancouver, and return at half past ten o'clock. Music, ice-cream and other things to make people happy, will be provided.

ROLLER SKATING.—This amusement constantly increases in popularity. Those who never skated are learning how, and those who skated before skate all the more. A band of music will enliven the Rink this evening.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Considerable quantities of Walla Walla flour have lately been received at this city.

Capt. Gage, of the bark Webfoot, expected to have his vessel loaded and ready to sail yesterday.

About fifty car loads of flour, wheat and oats, have arrived this week from up the valley.

The fine steamer Oneonta has been engaged for a moonlight excursion Saturday evening—the funds to go to the "Ladies' Relief Society."

In consequence of the absence of the pastor, there will be no lecture in the Presbyterian church this evening.

You Haven't Tried Them.

Victim of debility, who is responsible for your feebleness? Not yourself, you will say, for you've done all you could to cure it. That's a mistake on your part.

You haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Gloomy dyspeptic, with an uneasy stomach and a world weary face, of course you don't think yourself responsible for your own torments. But you are. It's easy to see from your condition that you haven't tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Bilious sufferer, it is not your fault, you think, that your symptoms grow worse day by day. Blue pills doesn't do you any good. Very likely. But you can be brought round for all that.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters?

Friend on whom fever and ague alternately blows hot and cold, and whose brain seems to be bursting with the effects of some powerful drug, do you assume the responsibility? O, no! You've taken pills of quinine, and all the regulation medicines. What could you do more? One thing more—the very thing that would have exempted you from all the pangs that now rack you!

You have never tried Hostetter's Bitters.

Nervous invalid, what have you to say? You plead that you have taken all the nervines of the pharmacopeia. If they have done you no good, it is not your fault. You are not responsible. Wrong, all wrong. You have, in reality, nobody to blame but yourself.

Why haven't you tried Hostetter's Bitters?

For all the above-named complaints, the Bitters are absolute specifics.

A Little Story of Married Life

In an English court there was lately tried an action for a protested dressmaker's bill, which revealed a curious picture of womanly independence in that country, where society is supposed to be strictest in its conventional exactions, and the domestic subjection of women most complete

The plaintiff was a London draper, and the defendant a Yorkshire clergyman or as he describes himself 'a country parson with ten daughters' Now, daughters are a blessing, of course, but they are also a great anxiety, and when it comes to having ten of them a man may be excused for feeling some anxiety to get a brace or so off his hands Two he had already disposed of, and, when so desirable a man as captain in the royal artillery proposed for the hand of a sixth, we may suppose that the good rector of Romaldkirk gave his consent and his paternal blessing with something approaching to joyful alacrity

The marriage took place on the 29th of September, and the happy couple went off to India, where the bridegroom was ordered, and equally happy father was left to congratulate himself on one care the less His contentment however, was destined to be rudely ended. The thunderbolt fell from his cloudless sky in the shape of a bill addressed to the absent bride under her maiden name, amounting to £155 5s, for the wedding trousseau "The list of the things supplied extended,' we are told, "over many pages, and embraced a variety of silk and other dresses, petticoats, jackets, mantles, vails, head-dresses, embroideries, trimmings, laces, and an immense variety of other things.' There was also a 'wedding-vail, particularly long," as the fair bride "was so very tall, being five feet ten inches high,' and certain mysterious devices called "dress protectors, to be used on going to India

All these things the enterprising young lady had ordered through an extensive personal correspondence with the London manufacturer and without the trifling formality of consultation with her father, who repudiated the debt, and the haberdasher resorted to law On trial it was shown by another haberdasher of the defendant that neither of her parents had been consulted about the order, and that a other wedding bills had come in since the bride's departure, to the amount of nearly three hundred pounds The plaintiff had dealt with engaging and unusual candor and his bill was a very reasonable one, "very little indeed for a lady about to be married to an officer It would not have been extravagant if it had been three times as much" To this argumentative exposition from an expert, there was no available answer

The defendant, to be sure, feebly protested that he had never heard of the plaintiff's existence till his bill was sent to the rectory, that he had never seen the things his daughter had ordered, except the dress in which she was married," and that he had told her "that the most ridiculous one, more fitted for a doll's daughter than a country parson's" All his, and the assertion that his dutiful child orders had nearly ruined him, went for nothing with the jury against the decisive opinion of the plaintiff as to the outlay for a lady so unlucky as to be married to an officer, and a verdict was given for the plaintiff for the full amount

If the immediate effect of this case is not to discourage country parsons from having ten daughters, it will render them less anxious to marry them, at least to officers

Darwin Taken to Task

ALL ABOUT HIS MONKEY

Various view of the novel theory in Descent of Man," is given in the criticism of that work—thus commended, by such speculations, of the family history, which Corporal Trim endeavored ineffectually to recite to Uncle There was a certain king of Bohemia, Trim, 'but in whose reign except now and not able to inform your honor by was more accommodating than a scientific point of view But and the gracious permission he accorporal as a most appropriate speculations of this kind "Leave entirely, Trim," said Uncle almost similar language "There certain monkey," says Darwin, of that he is quite sure, and he frequently reiterates "There was a certain man what period or country, except his not able to inform my readers" ever, if hard pressed, he would seem able even to make respecting the scene in should be laid—On the hand, some hairy animals seem to have to diminish their covering when ex to hot climates on the other hand, live in hot climates and prefer re their hair When pressed with the that is supposed progenitors of would have been exposed to great suggests that they "would have from any special risk "if they some large continent or large On the other hand, "the fact" of belonging to the Catarhine clearly shows that they in he old world, but not Australia, nor and, as we may infer from the geographical distribution" And we read, in considering another difficulty, that man does not appear to have originally inhabited any oceanic island We are as much puzzled about the original domain of this primeval monkey as Trim was about the maritime advantages of Bohemia.

YOUNG AMERICA AT THE WHEEL —A well known clergyman was crossing Lake Erie some years ago upon one of the lake steamers, and seeing a small lad at the wheel steering the vessel, accosted him as follows

"My son, you appear to be a small boy to steer so large a boat'

"Yes, sir," was the reply, "but you see I can do it, though'

"Do you think you understand your business, my son?"

"Yes, sir, I think I do"

"Can you box the compass?"

'Yes, sir"

'Let me hear you box it"

The boy did as he was requested, when the minister said

"Well, really, you can do it! Can you box it backward?

'Yes, sir"

"Let me hear you '

The boy did again as requested, when the minister remarked

"I declare my son' You do seem to understand your business '

The bop then took his turn at question asking, beginning

'Pray, sir, what might be your business?'

"I am a minister of the Gospel '

"Do you understand your business?'

'I think I do, my son

"Can you repeat the Lord's Prayer?"

'Yes

"Say it'

The clergyman did so, repeating the words in a very fervent manner as though trying to make an impression on the lad

'Well, really," said the boy, upon its conclusion, "you do know it, don't you? Now say it backward,'

"Oh! I can't do such a thing as that Of course—'

"You can't do it, eh?" returned the boy. "Well, then, you see I understand my business a great deal better than you do yours'
